3id Amesthesia Sy

Thoracic Anesthesia Symposium

Target Audience

Anesthesiologists who practice anesthesia for noncardiac thoracic surgery. This includes anesthesiologists who practice in both teaching centers and community hospitals and in centers with and without cardiac surgery, as well as anesthesia residents and cardiothoracic anesthesia fellows.

Statement of Need

There have been many recent advances in anesthesia for noncardiac thoracic surgery, including, but not limited to, lung isolation techniques in patients with difficult airways, prevention of hypoxemia during one-lung ventilation, and management of minimally invasive and robotic lung surgery. Discussions with attendees at recent anesthesia meetings and a survey of course evaluations have identified these areas as professional practice gaps, and this program of continuing education is designed to address knowledge and performance deficiencies in these areas.

Anesthesia for thoracic surgery is not a separate subspecialty but is commonly included within the subspecialty of cardiovascular anesthesia; however, many clinicians who provide anesthesia for thoracic surgery do not provide cardiac anesthesia, and a large portion of thoracic surgery is performed in hospitals that do not do cardiac surgery. There has not been an adequate forum at a national specialty or subspecialty anesthesia meeting to allow these practitioners to keep pace with the advances in thoracic anesthesia. This program is designed to be an update and review of thoracic anesthesia for both anesthesiologists who do and do not do cardiac anesthesia.

Goal

To improve the provision of perioperative care for patients having noncardiac thoracic surgery

Objectives

This course will have a limited registration and will attempt to maximize interaction between attendees and faculty with the use of panels, case discussions, workshops, problem-based learning discussions (PBLDs), and debates. After attending this course, attendees should be able to

- identify the important anesthetic management factors in patients with pulmonary hypertension having noncardiac surgery
- evaluate new monitoring systems in thoracic anesthesia such as cerebral oximetry and noninvasive cardiac output
- understand recent developments in techniques of management for postthoracotomy pain including thoracic epidural and paravertebral infusions
- improve their ability to interpret new modalities of chest imaging
- understand recent developments in the physiology of one-lung ventilation and use this information to treat hypoxemia during minimally invasive thoracic surgery
- provide a variety of ventilation options for patients during airway surgery
- improve their ability of to provide safe and reliable lung isolation with double-lumen tubes and bronchial blockers in patients with difficult airways
- discuss recent advances in anesthesia for lung transplantation.

Accreditation

The Society of Cardiovascular Anesthesiologists is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Designation

The Society of Cardiovascular Anesthesiologists designates this live activity for a maximum of 10.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)<sup>TM</sup>. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

DISCLOSURES

(As of February 13, 2014)

Nature of Relationship Key

- 1. No relationship with commercial supporters
- 2. Research support
- 3. Speaker's bureau
- 4. Consultant
- 5. Shareholder
- 6. Other financial support
- Faculty member will discuss and disclose unlabeled drug uses during presentation
- 8. Client

Disclosure Policy

Faculty members, chairpersons, and speakers have indicated, in accordance with the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) Standards and SCA policy, that they or a member of their immediate household have a relationship with the manufacturer(s) of commercial products or providers of commercial services discussed in their educational presentation or with SCA educational supporters. Such relationships include, but are not limited to member of the board of directors, advisory board, or speakers' bureau; participant in industry-sponsored research; recipient of a research grant; employee; investor; and consultant. Such relationships will be communicated to registrants in final course materials and in presentation slides on site prior to the session. Invited speakers have agreed that their presentations will be objective, they will provide a balanced view of diagnostic and therapeutic options, and discussion of any off-label or investigational use of a commercial product will be disclosed to the audience.
